

Student Name: _____

Class/Paper: _____

Dr. Anderson's Supplementary Rubric: Research/Design Paper

Dimension	Not yet	Beginning	Adequate	Excellent
NEVER have the titles of a section and subsection without texts between them.	Subsections always follow sections without any text between them	Most sections have text between them and a subsection	At most one subsection directly follows a section with no intervening text.	ALL sections have text following them before a subsection
NEVER have a section with a unique subsection	There exists a section with a unique subsection			There are no unique subsections
Use active and not passive form	Most of the text uses passive verb forms.	At least half of the text uses passive verb forms	Nearly all the text uses non-passive verb forms.	WOW. No passive verb forms exist in this paper.
All captions are in \small and end with a full-stop.	Captions incorrectly formatted	Half of the captions incorrectly formatted	Most captions correctly formatted	All captions are correctly formatted
All Figures/Tables are referenced before they appear	Tables/Figures not used or not referenced	Content lacks appropriate use of Figures and tables.	Figures and Tables appropriately support the content and references almost always appear correctly.	Tables and Figures form a central part of explanations in the paper and references appear correctly.
All acronyms are properly defined	Acronyms are used without definition.	Some acronyms are defined	Most acronyms are defined.	All acronyms are defined upon first usage using the full words first and the acronym in parenthesis.
Formally introduce technical definitions	No Technical definitions introduced used form <code>\begin{definition}...</code> LaTeX			The writer uses LaTeX <code>\begin{definition}...</code> to introduce Technical definitions
NO Informal English used (#25-31),	This paper breaks all or most of rules 25-31. (I, can't, this shows, very, seems, I think, appears...)	This paper breaks the rules mentioned in about half of the instances.	Most rules are followed	All rules are systematically followed.
LaTeX	Paper does NOT Compile correctly.			Paper does compile correctly
Appropriate Bibliography is included using BibTeX	No Bibliography or not included as a BibTeX	BibTeX included but without the appropriate number of peer reviewed articles	BibTeX included with a adequate number of peer reviewed articles included.	BibTeX included. includes relevant peer reviewed articles and appropriate references to similar projects/research.